Editor's Musings

"I hope you learned your lesson." Countless times we heard this admonition from grown-ups. How many mistakes did a kid have to make until all the lessons were "learned"? As an adult, I've found it is preferable to "learn" through someone else's experience rather than falling into every ditch myself. One unusual place I've discovered this learning curve is literally under my own feet—Dixie. Dixie is Jim's and my seven-pound Yorkshire Terrier. Through her life, God is teaching me a lot about His second book, nature. So here are seven lessons learned via canine wisdom:

1. Begin each day with a positive attitude. Dixie wakes up happy every morning. She anticipates what good things might happen and rejoices in simple experiences—seeing a bird fly by or looking up at us, grateful for her breakfast.

2. Be patient and polite. Dixie understands that sitting quietly and waiting eventually leads to treats and treasures. Barking and running around just leave her tired and troubled with no satisfaction.

3. Nap times are important. Despite all the household activity, company, and stimulation, Dixie will regularly retreat to her own private space and enjoy a short respite. Maybe this is the key to her positive outlook on life!

4. Come when you are called. When the Master calls, good things happen. Dixie enjoys food, rides in the car, and companionship through play. You and I savor spiritual food, journeys to interesting places, and Divine fellowship when we respond to our Lord's bidding.

5. Know when you need a bath. Dixie walks in the shower when she thinks she is dirty, waiting for us to make her feel fresh and clean. You and I know the source of spiritual cleansing, and Jesus will instantly restore us to the joy of our salvation.

6. Enjoy blessings today and don't fret about tomorrow. Sometimes Dixie roams the house with a recently-acquired doggie biscuit, whimpering and whining as she worries about where she might hide this prize possession. There are dozens of lessons in this one, so choose to apply where appropriate!

7. When times are stressful or uncertain, there is safety and refuge in the Master's arms. Whether it is a trip to the veterinarian, the threat of a larger, vicious dog, or the noise of frightening thunder, Dixie knows the comfort and security of Jim's or my arms. She completely trusts us because through experience, she understands that bad things don't happen when she is in our arms. You and I have that same assurance from our Heavenly Master. Whatever pain we may experience, His arms are open to hold and comfort us.

So, there they are—lessons from a little creature.

God bless us every one,

Sharon

East-Central Africa Division

✿ Mrs. Miriam Njagi reports: "We praise God for all His care and protection. Though we experience a number of trials, the Lord carries us through. We praise His holy name. Our union has three conferences and five fields. Each conference/field has a Shepherdess chapter."

Each chapter has divided itself into small areas in order to reach every shepherdess. In each region pastors' wives meet once a month or quarterly, and the whole group meets once a year. The shepherdesses have to walk long distances to gather for fellowship and evangelism.

✿ The shepherdesses from the Kenya Lake Field started a tailoring school in order to help each other. They held prayer and Bible study groups and were able to visit the needy people around them. They distributed food and clothing that they had carried from their homes.

✿ The South Kenya Conference chapter was able to conduct rallies in different districts and went to Kilgoris to fellowship with the Masai shepherdesses who live far away.

✿ Shepherdesses from the Kenya Coast Field participate in many activities. They visit the retired shepherdesses, new mothers, and the sick. They travel by lorries through Tsavo National Park to Kilibasi Church where they meet their fellow shepherdesses. The distance from the main tarmac road is 45 kilometers. They spend the weekend and distribute clothes to the needy people.

Photos on this page are from the Coast Field Shepherdesses as they travel to Kilibasi.

✿ The Spanish Union held a Ministerial Couples' Retreat in a beautiful resort city on the ocean. Mrs. Maeve Maurer, division coordinator, and Sharon Cress were guests of Majbritt Hendrickson, the union Shepherdess Coordinator. Majbritt planned extraordinary meetings in a beautiful hotel theatre. Highlights included:

Lively discussion in small groups

Inter-American Division

✿ Patrice Gordon, Shepherdess Coordinator for West Jamaica Conference, reports that Manchester pastors' wives had their first parish shepherdess meeting in February 2005. More than 15 ladies attended. The focus was on a prayer pact. The ladies wrote down their requests/concerns and put them in sealed envelopes to put in a box. Each lady took one and would pray for that individual for one week before passing it along to the next person.

This program was also introduced in the home of Pastor and Sister Ronnie Henry where they had a soup vespers. It expanded to include the entire pastor's family.

The box is continuing to be transferred from one family to another, and families are experiencing answers to prayer. Praise the Lord!

North American Division

✿ Annual Council was held at the General Conference world headquarters in October 2004. Gloria Trotman,

✿ Mrs. Young-Ja Nam, Shepherdess Coordinator for NSD, Pastor Dong Woon Im, Ministerial Secretary for the Korean Union, and Sharon Cress from Shepherdess International traveled to a Shepherdess Retreat in each conference in the union. Pastor Im organized the meetings and Mrs. Nam and Mrs. Cress presented the seminars. Hundreds of pastors' wives were blessed by the tremendous programming, fellowship, discussion and good food. Highlights of these memorable meetings:

✿ Mrs. Young-Ja Nam also reports that Shepherdesses from the West Central Korean Conference love music and have organized the Eunbitsori Flute Band. They were started in September 1997 and have done concerts; played at hospitals, prisons, and the World Cup Stadium, and performed charitable concerts for the handicapped and in sanitariums. Kim So Young is the conductor and Kim HeeSook is the vice conductor.

✿ In February the Austral Union held a Ministerial Council for pastoral families. Seminars were given by Pastor Ruy H. Nagel, SAD president; Pastor Raul Gomez; Drs. John and Millie Youngberg; Pastor Roberto Bullon, SAD

Ministerial Secretary; Dr. George Reid; and Pastor Jonas Arrais, SAD Associate Ministerial Secretary.

Special activities were planned for the children, and the pastoral wives had two days of meetings. Pastoral wives from the various conferences gave their testimonies.

✿ Two Shepherdess Coordinators retired: Marly de Ciufardy from the South Argentina Mission and Mrs. Liliana de Pinto from the Austral Union. The work of these ladies has been appreciated, and we pray they enjoy this new phase of their lives.

✿ In August 2004 SAD and the North Brazil Union held a Shepherdess Retreat in Belem. Pictures highlighting this event are below and on the following page:

✿ Mrs. Evelyn Nagel, AFAM division coordinator, reports the pastor's wife, Mrs. Sonia Filiu Albuquerque Lima, from the Penfigo Adventist Church in Campo Grande, Brazil, organized with the church for the women to carry out their first public evangelism.

They chose to hold the evangelism in a community center located in front of the hospital church. This institution is maintained by the Municipal Secretariat of Social Assistance and renders educational and recreational assistance to children and teens in the region.

The team began planning and prayer meetings 30 days prior to the conferences. The participation and suggestions of the group demonstrated that our ladies were committed to the work. Several volunteers carried out a brief survey and handed out invitations.

The social topics on health and relationships were presented by local Seventh-day Adventist physicians and professionals. The meetings began with the Bible studies in small groups. After each program, the team met for evaluation, gratitude, and prayer. On Good Friday, they had 100 individuals in attendance.

A closing ceremony was held to give each participant who completed the studies a Bible and certificate. In gratitude, the students surprised everyone by taking a basket of flowers to the front and distributing roses to the presenters.

One of the participants stated that the program was the best thing that had happened in her life. She had previously been a church member and was rebaptized as a result of the meetings. Another student stated that the studies helped to free her of substance abuse. A participant who had decided to keep the Sabbath was going to tell his employer of his decision. Before he told his employer, he was given a promotion, salary increase, and Saturday as his day off.

During the meetings, at the same time the program was held for the adults, a special evangelism program was held for children. A total attendance for children averaged between 40 and 50 each night.

The husbands supported the meetings by helping with the sound equipment, audio visuals, purchasing prizes, giving Bible studies, and carrying equipment.

Meeting Results:

- 36 students were enrolled, not including children.
- 26 students received a certificate of course completion.
- 4 participants are preparing for baptism.
- 2 small groups were formed in the home of individuals who completed the course.
- More than half of the students were teens, and several indicated their desire to be baptized later.

Participating in this first public evangelism was a marvelous experience for the women. They received many blessings and had a glimpse of what they can accomplish for God.

Southern Africa-Indian Ocean Division

✿ The East Zimbabwe Conference Shepherdesses conducted community outreach programs at Lowdale in Mazoe. They had an average daily attendance of 180 people, and at the end of the crusade, 72 people were baptized. During the VBS program, 61 children graduated. The shepherdesses also fed and gave clothes to orphans, widows, widowers, disabled people, and home care patients.

✿ In the Nyabira community, the shepherdesses had a kitchen program for the needy and then a three-week evangelistic effort by a local pastor. The event was covered by the local media and broadcast on national TV.

✿ Derilla Marak reported on the Adult Literacy Project in Garo. One attendee brought her husband to the church as well and he was baptized. They are already witnessing to others in their village. The group is working on having a women's prayer band every Sabbath after church to pray for special requests. They are also encouraged to memorize a Bible verse each Sabbath.

In March 2005 Jim and Sharon Cress and Elder and Mrs. Kore were the featured speakers at the meetings in Pune, India, where the union held a Pastoral Couples' Retreat. Below and on the next page are highlights:

✿ Jean Sundaram, Shepherdess Coordinator for South Tamil Conference, reported that nearly 55 shepherdesses attended meetings held in Chettimedu. There were seminars on team ministry and money management. Many rededicated their lives to God at the close of the meetings.

✿ Nellore hosted the first-ever Shepherdess meetings from Southeast Andhra and South Rayalaseema Regions from July 17-19. Thirty-five ministerial workers' wives attended the combined Shepherdess meetings. Hepzibah Kore, the Division Shepherdess Coordinator, presented the seminars and led in the discussions while Vinodhini John, the Union Coordinator, assisted in the translations. The topics presented were "New Life for the Pastor's Wife," "The Role of Shepherdess," "The Art of Giving Bible Studies," "Organizing Small Group Ministries," "Different Types of Evangelism," "The Importance of Women's Ministries," "How to Interact with Women in the Community," and "The Virtuous Woman." Vinodhini John spoke to delegates and the believers at the vespers meeting on the topic "Fill My Cup Lord." The Sabbath School, including the lesson study and other Sabbath services, were led by the delegates. Hepzibah Kore shared God's Word during the divine service. The message was based on fervent prayer. Everyone responded to the altar call given by the speaker, and special dedicatory prayer was offered by Pastor Wilbert, Southeast Andhra Region Director.

The financial self-support was noteworthy in conducting these meetings. Vinodhini John congratulates Pastor Wilbert and Pastor Jesudas, the Region Directors, and appeals for similar enterprise in other regions and sections to strengthen the ministry in the Central India Union. See photographs:

✿ Goa-West Karnataka Section reports that in 2003 Mrs. Esther Nazareth prepared 15 souls for baptism in Thigadolli, and Mrs. Nirmala Arthur prepared 12 souls in Kanadal for baptism.

✿ The South Karnataka Section has 16 shepherdesses working in schools, staying at home, involving themselves in branch Sabbath School, VBS, and visiting.

North Karnataka Section

✿ Mrs. Annpurna assisted Pastor Mark Sharma in meetings held at Holabellary and Kattithugaoan. She gave Bible studies to 10 families which resulted in 12 souls for the year.

✿ In Sanjya, Nagar, and Kalebough villages, Mrs. Mary Solomon assisted Pastor Solomon in meetings. She won 11 souls for God's kingdom.

✿ Mrs. Indira assisted Pastor Raju in the meetings held in Honnattigi and Poothipalli. Bible studies resulted in six souls.

Bangalore Metro Region

✿ Mrs. Aliyamma Jacob helped give Bible studies to a Muslim family, and they have accepted Christ secretly. Her influence has also won two souls.

✿ Mrs. Karuna Subhakar Rao is caring for two congregations in Siddapura and Bakshi Garden. She is giving Bible studies and has won 16 people to the Lord.

✿ Mrs. Bharathi Thompson is rendering full-time gospel ministry and caring for two churches at Summanahalli and H. B. Colony. She has won 18 souls.

✿ Mrs. Clara Thavasekaran in Rajivgandhinagar influenced a Hindu family to accept Christ.

✿ In the North Rayalaseema Region in April 2004, shepherdesses conducted a children's Sabbath School by teaching small choruses, stories, and memory verses. They also had a revival meeting that evening. Many people requested prayer for their spiritual needs.

✿ In the Jharkhand Bihar Section, Mrs. Phulti reports that she visited a village called sinjuri. One of the family members was possessed by an evil spirit. After much prayer, the family is not troubled by evil spirits anymore.

Southern Asia-Pacific Division

✿ When the earthquake and tsunami devastated the Indian Ocean coastlines on December 26, 2004, two shepherdesses sprang into action. Sherine Perera, Shepherdess Coordinator for Singapore Adventist Mission, and her husband were spurred by the hurt of losing Sherine's cousin and family. They collected clothing, food, and usable items. Many volunteers came to help pack goods and load containers. They were overwhelmed by the response of generous people.

Sherine and her daughter, Rochael, left January 17, 2005, for the Moratuwa Adventist Church and arrived in time to receive the container of gifts and spent one week distributing the symbols of love.

❁ Mrs. Man-Ling Leong, Shepherdess Coordinator for the mission in Kuala Lumpur, gathered shepherdesses and Pathfinders to offer help to the Red Cross packing clothing and other items. She worked with Mrs. Ellen Patrick, shepherdess from Klang Valley, in starting Basic First Aid training. Because of these activities, four people have begun Bible studies. Please continue to pray for those affected by the tsunami.
