

Instructions for Assembling The Leaves of Blessing Jar

This time of year there's plenty of cookies and candy, and more than enough sugar to go around. Why not consider giving a different type of gift to encourage a loved one as they begin this coming New Year – a gift that will taste much better than hot chocolate, and that keeps on giving! Of course, for those that just have to have their hot-chocolate, you can call it "Hot-Chocolate for the Soul." And you can even add a candy cane for special effect. Or better yet, get silk leaves to stuff in the side of the jar. The neat thing is that this gift can be adapted and used any time of year or for any occasion. We need to share more "Leaves of Blessings" with our loved ones!

Below are directions how to assemble your Leaves of Blessing Jar. In separate attachment is a letter or note that you can personalize and share with your gift.

STEP 1 – Print up the 10 pages of Leaves of Blessings Promises, or make your own. It's nice if you can print on colored paper! Then cut the sections apart so they are neat little strips, which contain 1-3 promises, as desired.

STEP 2 – Fold each of these strips first long-wise, as pictured below.

STEP 3 – Now fold the long strip in the middle as pictured to left.

STEP 4 – Now insert the promise (a.ka. the LEAF) into the jar with the fold at top, until jar is packed!
This way they are easy to grab and pull out!
